

Part I, The Data

Reasons for Disabling Account or Rejecting Ads

The vast majority of respondents said they were given no reason for actions against their account, and were simply told they violated "community guidelines," an extremely vague response.

